County Commission votes to establish Advisory Council on Drugs

by Marvin McLwain, Editor

The Coffee County Commission, in regular session Monday morning, took action on several items of business ranging from awarding bids to establishing an advisory council on drugs.

Commissioner Bernest Brooks, in expressing his concerns about the drug problem that exists in Coffee County, offered a motion to establish an Advisory Council on Drugs.

He pointed out several specific problems - as he sees them - as being: drugs in the schools, only drug pushers - not drug dealers being jailed, an appearance that most of the drug-related arrests are black youth, the loss of some of the best young minds to the drug culture, and the appearance that most of our state and local governments are focusing on the issues that will not make our government a strong democracy.

Brooks proposed that the council work in conjunction with the drug task force, the Coffee County Sheriff's Department, city councils, police departments, and other law enforcement agencies.

The composition of the council would be as follows: two individuals (one black & one white) representing the ministers' alliance; two representatives (one black & one white) from Enterprise, Elba and New Brockton; one individual from Kinross; two at-large youths; two individuals representing community organizations; and two retired police officers. Total number of individuals on the council to be 15.

In his proposal, Brooks suggested that each city council or agency meet in a public forum to select their representatives to serve on the advisory council.

He also proposed that the terms of the members be staggered, and that the advisory council draft its own operating policy and procedures.

Commissioner Brooks outlined the specific functions of the council as follows: (1) Monitor and assess drug-related activities; (2) Render technical assistance to these agencies; task force, police departments, and sheriff's department; (3) Make quarterly reports to each city council and county commission; (4) Seek drug-related help from state and federal governments; and (5) Work with the media on drug-related matters.

"During the last four years, we have had a more rapid response to any emergency than we have ever had in the history of the Emergency Management Agency," said Webb.

"Our relationship with FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) is the best that it has ever been!"

He continued, "We have had more grant money poured into the county for the last four years than any time in history to aid in emergency management. In short, the emergency management system in Alabama is considered by FEMA to be one of the best - if not the best - in the nation."

"It is my opinion that this is all due to the leadership of Lee Helms who started with the state agency in the 70's."

The director noted that Helms' position as director of the state agency is an appointed one and he serves at the pleasure of the governor of the state. Webb requested that the commission join 12 other counties of the state in passing a resolution urging Governor-Elect Don Siegelman to leave Helms in place as director of EMA for the good of the people of Alabama. It was noted that 40-50 other counties are also considering passage of the same resolution.

The commission unanimously passed the resolution as requested by Webb.

Webb also told commissioners that the first stage of the computerized monitoring system of rainfall, stream flows and forecasting was in place and should be completed in the near future.

During the general business session from the commissioners, Commissioner Robert Stephens offered a motion that only one sign per mile per candidate be allowed on the rights-of-way of county roads.

The motion was tabled for further discussion. Stephens voted against tabling the matter.

Commissioner Stephens also asked about what was being done (investigation) concerning the missing money in the Probate Office in Elba.

Commission Chairman Kayo Lewis said, "They [sheriff's investigators and Elba police investigators] are investigating. They are planning on giving polygraph tests to the employees. It is my understanding that the [probate] judge is responsible for the money. If they refuse to take the tests or whatever and they don't find it, he's liable, my understanding is, to replace the money."

Commissioner Linda Westbrook suggested that the commission, before the first of the year, look into the possibility of establishing some kind of animal control (strays) for the county.

Under the heading of "old business," commissioners awarded one bid and tabled two others until the next meeting.

The bid for the construction of concrete ditch flumes on Co. Rd. 617 was awarded to H&L Construction of Troy, AL, contingent on the approval by the Alabama Department of Transportation. Their bid was low at $50,367.00.

There were five bids submitted on the county highway department on an as-needed basis. Bids were submitted on a per-hour/quantity basis.

Two area contractors - Apple Enterprises Incorporated (Heavy Earth Construction) of Dothan and S&C Materials & Paving Company of Troy - both submitted a bid of $45

Elba's city council meeting brief

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City Council held a brief meeting Monday in which they heard several reports, but cast only one vote.

Helen McCallough was appointed to another term on the Elba Housing Authority. Mayor James Grimes said told council members she had agreed to serve another term if the council so desired. The vote for reappointment was unanimous.

City Clerk Donnie Morrow updated the council on the cost of purchasing new garbage trucks if the city council decides to get back into the garbage pick-up business.

A rear loader truck with 18 to 20 cubic yard capacity will cost between $68,000 and $72,000, Morrow said. This will be for picking up household garbage.

A front loader truck with a 35 cubic yard capacity will cost about $120,000. This type truck is to empty the large dumpsters at commercial and industrial establishments.

Another report showed council members the estimated cost and income from the garbage service. Estimated income for the year is $252,204, while expenses total $264,548.33.

The expense figure is the sum of $201,411.56 paid to the present garbage contractor, based on 1800 pick-ups weekly plus $63,136.77.

BRAINSTORMS
With Ferrin Cox

This is the official week of Thanksgiving, a tradition which dates back to the settling of the new world. Traditionally we believe the first settlers from Europe expressed their thanks to the Native Americans for their very survival during those first harsh days. This was a group of people who were friendly with the Indians and received direct benefits for which they could never fully repay... their very lives were saved because the Indians knew how to live in the harsh winters and were generous with this knowledge. Today we often forget that the day is to salute these people and to give thanks to God for providing for us throughout the past year. Enjoy your turkey and/or ham, but please give thanks to your God for providing the feast.

There is an ad in this issue of the paper calling attention to the Open House at The Briar Patch. This business located on the square is celebrating it's first birthday, having opened for business on November 22nd, 1997. The owners survived the March flood which hit both their home and the business. However, to walk in the store today, one would never suspect anything ever happened. It is brimming with all sorts of goodies for the home and some household items I tell them will make good dust collectors. These three men have put forth a strong effort to help Elba survive. We hope our readers join us in returning the jester ten fold.

At the Farm-City banquet last Thursday night, Elba's Lynn Baker did a great job singing the national anthem! Expert singers report this is an awful hard song to sing, due to the range of the notes but Lynn handled it like the "master she is. We would not attempt to sing it anytime someone else might be listening, but do appreciate those who can do it successfully and with the dignity it deserves.

The City of Elba is back in the downtown offices on Buford Street. There have been a few small glitches, but considering the major remodeling the building has undergone, things are going quite well. Mayor James Grimes is talking about an open house in the near future, but we have found that interested citizens can get the nickel (or maybe even the fifteen cent) tour just by expressing an interest. Just go by and drop a hint to a couple of city employees and one is bound to offer to escort you around the nice facility.

Last week our fax machine was spitting out statements by both Attorney General Bill Pryor, Governor Fob James and Attorney Jere Beasley. Before we could figure out all the players in the national tobacco lawsuit settlement deal, James sent another reporting he had told Pryor to use his best judgement on accepting the settlement. Now we think Alabama has signed on with the deal and are waiting for someone to explain the end results in language understandable by the average person.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

On Nov. 6, as I was returning to Elba from Dothan, I passed Officer John Nelson. As I stopped for a traffic light, he motioned me to pull over in front of the skating rink. He then told me someone had called the police department to send an officer to the Jensen Gray residence on Martin Luther King Drive.

Upon arrival at the Gray residence, Officer Nelson called the Rescue Squad to transport Jensen Gray to Elba General Hospital. At the Gray residence two people were arguing about who should keep Jensen's wallet. Officer Nelson got possession of the wallet and consequently gave it to me for safe-keeping. He also made sure the doors were secured before leaving.

I wish to say that the Elba Police per hour, however, Apple's capacity was 21 cubic yards and S&C's was 20 cubic yards.

County Engineer Randy Tindell requested that the bids be tabled until he could verify the manufacturer's rated capacities of each of the bidder's equipment. There was also some question as to whether or not S&C was considered to be a local contractor. They, at one time, had offices in Coffee County but it was not known if they were still being maintained.

The bids on software and hardware for a new computer system in the Revenue Commissioner's office were tabled in order to allow Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns to review them. Gemini Consultants submitted a bid of $164,057.58 while S&W Mini Computers Incorporated's total bid was for $231,764.00.

Other matters acted on by the commissioners were as follows:
Granted: Don Parker a six-month extension on the development of Chateau Hill Subdivision located just south of Enterprise.

Approved credit to Clement Contracting Group of Montgomery for the use of the county's landfill.

Gave the chairman of the commission the authority to enter into an agreement with the Department of Transportation (DOT) for the emergency repairs on various county roads cause by Hurricane Georges.

Authorized the commission chairman to enter into an agreement with the DOT for the resurfacing of Yellowleaf Drive, Pineleaf Drive, Myrtlewood Drive, and Augusta Drive. A grant for $50,000 has been set aside for this project. The estimated cost is also $50,000.

Signed a resolution allowing the chairman to enter into an agreement with the DOT for the paving of Co. Rds. 159, 542 & 543. Grant funds in the amount of $100,000 has been approved for this project. The estimated cost is $120,000. (The additional cost of $20,000 has already been budgeted for this project).

Approved the use of the courthouse square in Elba for the annual Christmas Festival on Saturday, November 28th.

Approved the construction of a cemetery at Mt Vernon Church.

Adopted a resolution authorizing the adjustment of the costs of relocation in the flood mitigation project.

Grimes also reported that they are still trying to get the promised $100,000 paving funds from the State of Alabama.

City Attorney Jeff Kelley reported a $5,000 settlement offer with the city's former liability insurance carrier. He recommended the council approve the settlement of this long running debate over insurance claim deductibles. Kelley said this will close the cases and save the city $4,000 plus an untold amount the company might have charged if Elba hadn't started questioning the deductible charges several years ago.

Punctuality Defined AS...

by Lee English

Webster defines punctuality as occurring or arriving at the stated time. Being punctual includes no tardiness and consistently no absences. No one person can always be on time, but everyone can try his or her hardest at all times. Whether it be church, school, or organized events, being punctual is necessary to follow through with the planned activities. Those who are continually late hinder not only themselves, but also those who are waiting on them. Also, those who are always punctual or even a little early set good examples for those who aren't. Being punctual or early benefits the person. This gives one some time to get settled or organized before the starting time. Not only is tardiness undesirable, it is greatly aggravating to all people involved. With punctuality comes responsibility. If one is not punctual then he cannot be responsible for any events concerning the set time of arrival.

In an interview with assistant principal Johnny Dunn, he stated that the tardy policy has changed since last year and he gave his ideas on punctuality. This year when a student gets eight tardies, he or she will get ISS (In School Suspension).

Trucker Pen Pal Visits 5th Grade Students

Mr. Eddie Brown, driver for Schneider National Carriers, visited Mrs. Wilson's 5th grade class on October 30, 1998. Mr. Eddie, as the students call him, is the students' truck driver pen pal who spoke to the class on driving safely. He gave them safety pamphlets along with numerous useful gifts. Students were also able to sit in the driver's seat of his big truck.

The class would like to thank Eddie for the visit and the gifts and hopes he can come again very soon.

FBLA Officers Attend Leadership Conference

by Alisha Culliver

On the weekend of November 6, 1998, Leslie Stinson and Alisha Culliver attended the National Fall Leadership Conference in Birmingham, Alabama. Mrs. Ingrid Clark, FBLA Coordinator and key-boarder instructor at Elba High School, accompanied Leslie and Alisha as their advisor.

By attending the advisor's workshop, Mrs. Clark learned of ways to raise money, promote FBLA, recruit new members, and promote leadership. She also participated in many hands-on activities that can be shared with the officers and members.

FBLA President, Leslie Stinson shared her thoughts about the FBLA conference. "Thanks to such a great program as FBLA, I feel confident and sure that I will be prepared enough to enter the business world. I plan to remain as an FBLA officer to make my mark and be as great as those who have motivated me. After listening to many speeches given by very influential people at the Birmingham conference, I have learned that being a successful business leader is something that cannot be accomplished overnight."

Leslie is the current FBLA President at Elba High School and is certainly on her way to being a successful entrepreneur in the future. The FBLA Vice-President, Alisha Culliver, also described what she learned. "As a result of the Birmingham Conference, I learned that bringing business and education together in a positive working relationship is a great way to prepare today's students for the business world. I also feel that I have attained a position of trust and responsibility that will be beneficial to me as I continue to pursue my goals and dreams for the future."

Alisha plans to take advantage of her position as FBLA Vice-President and help to make this 1998-99 FBLA Chapter the best it can be.

Mrs. Clark, Leslie Stinson, and Alisha Culliver learned how to build a more successful club through innovative leadership and career development programs.

SGA Sponsors Food Drive

by Julie Robinson

Thanksgiving is not only a time of giving thanks and spending time with the family, but it is also a time to give to the less fortunate. The Student Council will be hosting their annual food drive through the month of November. All the food that will be collected will go to the Christian Mission. The sponsor, Mrs. Bailey, is also making this food drive fun for the students at Elba High School. The grade that brings in the most food will receive a party for their charitable deeds. With lots of help from the student body the Elba High School Student Council will hopefully be successful in giving to others during Thanksgiving holidays.

Football Playoffs Something Special

by Daniel Murdock

The playoffs are something that is very special to any football team as it is the time of the season when they are rewarded for their excellence and hard work by playing a few extra games. Then if the team is lucky or just real good, they will have a chance to display their greatness in the school's trophy case and perhaps a banner under their scoreboard in their gym. Even if your team wins only one playoff game it is still something great as the entire town and just for that week, you feel a bit invincible. The playoffs are always special but this time for the Elba Tigers it is a little something extra as they have truly caught the attention of the entire town.

The Elba Tigers struggled in winning only two games and heard criticisms from various people as they achieved their lowest win total in recent memory. But they marched on despite what might be said and won the key matchups such as homecoming and games against area opponents to become the Class 3A Area 2 Champions! Their first playoff was against Washington County and despite winning the area, many of the players got the feel that most of the townspeople had already counted them out, as there were just as many fans from Washington County (approximately a 3-hour drive) as there were from the home standing Elba Tigers (possibly a ten-minute drive). Then instead of the Tigers letting out a purr, during the first round of the playoffs, they roared as they defeated a quality Washington County team not only in the statistics but also on the scoreboard. For the first time since 1994, the Elba Tigers won an Alabama State Playoff Game! The feeling was one of exhilaration as the Tigers let out in a well-deserved celebration because they finally proved the townspeople what they knew for so long. They proved that they are truly a great team.

Suddenly the Tigers won the heart of the entire town as everyone started praising them and giving them a worthy pat on the back. The small town rallied around the football players as everyone could now recognize their faces and words of hero and fantastic buzzed throughout the crisp autumn air. No longer were there sounds of discouragement; instead most everyone gleamed with assurance and excitement as the mighty Elba Tigers diligently prepared for their second round opponent. Once again, the Elba football team could rightfully boast of a tradition that teams of the past fought so hard to build and maintain over generations. It is a truly special tradition that the citizens of Elba like to refer to as Tiger Pride.

It is amazing what the Elba Tigers have been able to accomplish so far this year. It is also amazing how winning one game can give new life to a school and catch the imagination of the entire town. Yes, the playoffs are truly something special and so are the Elba Tigers.

Internet Burro Visits EES

The fifth-grade students in Elba Elementary School are learning about current events through Weekly Reader's newspapers for kids. The fifth-grade teachers integrate the Weekly Reader's into their lessons each week. The students recently learned about adopting wild mustangs and burros off the Internet.

Since the students were particularly interested in adopting these wild animals, the guidelines and adoption process, the fifth-grade teachers arranged for a guest speaker to come speak to the students.

Tiffany Helms from Enterprise brought her adopted burro, Jack, to visit the excited young kids. She was able to answer many questions about the adoption process and the amount of time and hard work necessary to tame the wild animals. The fifth-graders enjoyed seeing what they had read about in class, and Jack really enjoyed the treats fed to him by the kids! The fifth-graders would like to send a special thanks to Ms. Helms and Jack for their time.

Zion Chapel's Award Winning Rebel Cheerleaders

by Kendra Ward

The Zion Chapel cheerleaders attended the Coffee County Board of Education meeting Nov. 12, 1998. They were there to be recognized for their work and their accomplishments this year. Mr. Richard Littleton, principal, Mrs. Michele Templin, sponsor, Kendra Ward, and Kayla Eddins gave speeches about the hard work that the cheerleaders have done so far this year.

The following is an article written by Shelley Briggman, a staff writer with The Enterprise Ledger where the article was first published.

"Zion Chapel Cheerleaders Enjoy A Championship Year" - Cheerleaders at Zion Chapel High School really have something to cheer about in one of their best years ever.

Before even getting down to the business of performing at football games and pumping up school spirit this fall, the squad had already achieved its biggest success. The 10-girl team brought home its first ever trophy after taking part in summer competition at the Universal Cheerleading Association Camp in Troy.

They had never competed at the camp before, but the 1A squad strutted its stuff and claimed first place in the cheering competition - a match that included all classes.

They also won several "superior" and "excellent" ribbons at the camp.

said Michele Templin, squad sponsor.

The team captain, senior Kendra Ward, was named All-Star Cheerleader at the camp.

Ms. Templin credits hard work for giving the squad its success. She stresses conditioning, lots of running, push ups and working with weights in addition to hours practicing cheers and routines.

"We do a lot of stunts and we're really probably getting a lot better with our stunts, getting up in the air more," Ms. Templin said.

The cheerleaders' drive to spread spirit this year also won them honors, bringing them first place in a school spirit decorating contest held at Wal-Mart's Colonial Bank in October.

"These girls have worked hard and have a lot of school spirit and have really done a good job of getting the school involved," she said.

For Homecoming Week, celebrated the last week of October, the cheerleaders made up the spirit days and cheers.

The girls show their dedication to the squad by working concession stands at home games for Troy State University, which is the cheerleaders' main fund raiser.

The hard work has paid off for the squad in a rewarding year so far crowned with the trophy win at camp.

"I think it's awesome," squad Captain Kendra Ward said of the year this far. "We just work really good together. We get along great."

Miss Ward, who in December will compete for individual cheerleading in a state-wide competition has been a cheerleader since seventh grade.

In all that time, she has taken part in many more school activities than she would have otherwise, in which she's grateful.

"When you're a cheerleader you know how important it is to be involved," Miss Ward said.

FHA Participates In Families First Project

by Angie Laney

"Families First" is the name of a state project in which members of the sixth-period family and consumer science are participating. Ms. Joan Hobbs is the instructor for this class.

There are five units in the actual Families First Project. The unit that the class is working on is Balancing Families and Careers. This unit deals with families that work and have a family life. The project is teaching the members of the class how they can better help out at home and help out with chores. They are learning how to balance their family time.

The project lasted one week. During the week they participated in many fun and educational activities. On Monday the class made posters that had boots. "Families that pull together go the distance" was printed on them. On the sides the posters had sayings that tell about family values that all families should possess.

On Tuesday the class finished their posters and then were handed out surveys that asked them how they budget their time. The survey asked questions like "What do you do from the minute that you wake up in the morning until you go to school?" and "What do you do from the time that you get out of school until you go to bed?" Other questions were "Are you involved in any extracurricular activities and if so how many hours do you spend on them?" Then the survey asked about how weekend time was budgeted. The class was asked to answer these questions very honestly.

The surveys were then taken up and a graph was made showing what the majority of the members of the class do during the time they have during the day. The purpose of the survey was to help members of the class decide where it could be possible for them to either spend more time with their families or to help out a little more with their family roles.

On Wednesday class members were given copies of family trees that they had to color. The trees had branches that denoted different virtues designed to make a person remember how important it was to be a team player in their family. These were then placed on the bulletin board in the hallway of the science building so that anyone who passed them could see them.

On Thursday the posters were displayed along with the trees in the hallway. Also the class was broken up into three different groups. The group leaders then drew for topics on different things dealing with balancing families and careers. The groups assembled during class and made up scripts on these topics which they presented to the class on Friday.

On Friday the class performed their skits for the class and they discussed the topics in detail. A report was made about the project and forms were filled out and submitted to state headquarters in Montgomery, Alabama.

ZC Seniors Study Medieval Characters

by Alisha Walker

The Senior Class is studying medieval literature. As their project for the second nine weeks, they must choose a medieval literary figure, which can be a character or author. Then, they must research their choice. Each student must prepare an oral presentation, which will be presented to the class December 1-4.

A visual aid has to be used. They can make a video, a poster, a craft like woodworking or swords, dress up, or anything else to go along with their character or author.

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz

While none of us are die-hard college football fans, the Alabama fans in the Mularz family outnumber the Auburn fans 3-1. Melissa is the only Auburn fan in the house, and Saturday night I told her that while she could pull for any team she wanted to, we would all just watch the game and not cheer for either team. That ended quickly when Auburn hotted out to a 17-0 lead, and after a friendly reminder from Daddy, Melissa decided that maybe she should watch the rest of the game at her aunt's house. The final score of 31-17 did make Mom, Dad and Melanie happy; however, nothing was said to Melissa, and after the game Dad changed channels and the kids played video games. In our house it's just a peaceful rivalry.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM THE WORLD OF SPORTS....

 The Elba Tigers opened their basketball season Monday night, and it will be interesting to see if the Tigers can win anywhere near as many games as their fans believe. Elba does return three of the areas top players in Tim Ware, Wayne Reed and Eric Jordan, but Ware and Reed are both young, and still have many lessons to learn on the court. Elba should be much improved and appears to have a chance to be big winners; however, games are won on the court and not on paper, and only time will tell if the Tigers can get it done on the court.

 The second annual Coffee County Thanksgiving Basketball Tournament will be held this week at both Kinston and New Brockton, with four games set for both gyms on Wednesday and Friday, and four games set for Saturday at Kinston. Tip-off tournaments are impossible to predict, but the teams to beat in the boys division should be Elba, G.W. Long and Ashford, while over in the girls division team to beat should be Straughn, Arton and Kinston. The action will be non-stop all three days, and all area basketball fans should make plans to attend.

 The Brantley Bulldogs kept their state title hopes alive last week with a 9-0 win over St. Jude, and the Bulldogs are now just one win away from a trip to Legion Field and the "Super Six" championships. The Bulldogs dominated action throughout the game in the win over the Pirates, and only mistakes kept Brantley from rolling up a bigger number of points. The Brantley defense continued to play well and recorded a shut-out, and may very well be the strength of the team. I could be proved wrong Friday night, however, it appears to me that if Brantley plays well it could very well go all the way!

 The Alabama-Auburn game wasn't exactly one for the record books, but it was very entertaining for fans of both teams, and the best team probably did win the game, Auburn came to Birmingham with a game plan to upset the highly-favored Crimson Tide, and almost delivered a first round knock-out by jumping out to a nearly 17-0 lead. Once the staggered Tide settled down and threw a few punches of its own it became obvious that it would be a good game, and probably the biggest difference in the game was Alabama tailback Shaun Alexander. Alexander had two touchdowns worthy of the highlight films and as the game went on the burly speedster took command. After the game a couple of things were very clear to see. One, Coach Mike Dufosse is the right coach at Alabama. Two, Coach Bill Oliver had his team ready to win despite being out-manned. And, three, while you can question the talent at Auburn, you can never question the heart of the Auburn players. It was just another in a long line of Alabama-Auburn games that fans will remember, until they meet again.

 There was a feature on the NFL home page last week about Elba's own Ronald McKinnon, and in the three page feature it was stated that the third year pro with Arizona could very well be on his way to the NFL. All-Star game in Honolulu. McKinnon was compared to former Chicago Bear great Mike Singletary by the Arizona defensive coordinator, and Cardinals' Coach Vince Tobin stated "He doesn't have the size or speed that maybe you are always looking for, but he gives you everything he's got on every play and is a tremendous asset to this football team." It is good to see that the former Elba Tiger standout is finally getting the publicity he so richly deserves as a true NFL defensive star.

 Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator dropped by Sunday morning and said that after last week's 17-5 slate he was glad the playoffs were nearing an end. He has hit on 66 of 79 playoff picks, and before leaving did leave this week's picks....

In "Game of the Week"

Kinston surprises Zion Chapel 63-59

The Kinston Bulldogs went on a 7-0 run midway through the fourth quarter to turn a two-point deficit into a five-point lead, and held on in the closing minutes despite hitting only 5 of their final 14 free-throws, to post an exciting 63-59 win over the Zion Chapel Rebels, Friday night, in Kinston, in last week's "Game of the Week."

The win evened the Bulldogs' record at 1-1, while Zion Chapel fell to 0-1 with the season-opening loss.

Zion Chapel grabbed a quick 3-0 lead on a three-pointer by Bo Adkinson, and pulled out to a 12-5 advantage at the 3:16 mark of the opening stanza on back-to-back baskets by Josh Grantham.

The Bulldogs closed to within 15-12 at the end of the stanza on a three-pointer by Chris Hughes, and the two teams swapped baskets for much of the second quarter until Kinston sneaked ahead 22-21 with 2:02 left in the stanza on a three-pointer by Bret Nobles.

Tigers & Lady Tigers to compete in Thanksgiving Tournament

The 2nd annual Coffee County Thanksgiving Basketball Tournament, sponsored by Citizens Bank and Trust, will tip-off this week with a total of eight boys teams and eight girls teams set to do battle at Kinston High School and New Brockton High School.

Teams in the boys division include Zion Chapel, Arton, Ashford, Elba, Samson, Straughn, Kinston and G.W. Long, while competing in the girls division will be Zion Chapel, Samson, New Brockton, Straughn, Elba, Arton, Kinston and G.W. Long.

Kenji Mitchell and Tony Burks lead final Elba Tiger football statistics for 1998 high school football season

The Elba High School Tigers released their final 1998 football statistics last week, and the final stats showed that senior linebacker Kenji Mitchell led the Tigers on defense, while senior quarterback Eric Jordan and sophomore tailback Tony Burks were team leaders on offense.

Defensive statistics revealed in "Tackles" that Kenji Mitchell led the Tigers with 137 tackles in 11 games, while other Tigers making over 100 stops included Tony Burks (107) and Derrick Duncan (100). Rounding out the defensive list on tackles made were Derek Coleman (61), Jep Dubose (52), Kevin Dodd (51), Brandon Salter (50), Josh Lawford (49), Bradley Bowers (37), O'Shay Hammonds (31), Eric Jordan (31), Josh Hodge (26), Britt Grimes (23), Lance Boutwell (18), Gavin Mauldin (13), Robert Aponte (10), Demarius Howe (8), Gary Williams (8), Derrick Brooks (7), Tim Andrews (4), Michael Goodwin (2), Tim Cotter (1) and Carson Waters (1).

Mitchell also led the Tigers with "Tackles for Losses" with a total of 15, followed by Brandon Salter with 12, while Josh Hodge led the Tigers in "Interceptions" with 3, followed by Derrick Duncan with 2. Brandon Salter paced the Tiger defense in "Sacks" with 4, followed by Kevin Dodd with 3 1/2 and Jep Dubose with 2, while Josh Lawford Kinston extended its lead to 26-22 by the end of the half and opened up a 35-28 advantage with 3:10 left in the third quarter on a lay-up by Bishop Edwards, only to see Josh Grantham spark a 7-0 Zion Chapel run that enabled the Rebels to pull even at 35-35 with 1:31 still left in the stanza.

Jeremiah King hit two late baskets to give the Bulldogs a 39-35 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but Zion Chapel refused to quit and regained the lead at 41-39 with 6:53 left in the game on a jumper by Josh Grantham.

Two quick baskets by Bret Nobles sparked a Kinston rally that pushed the Bulldogs back on top 46-41 with 4:35 remaining on the clock, and behind the play of Nobles and Scott Creech, Kinston appeared to have the win all wrapped up as it moved ahead 58-45 with only 1:44 left in the game.

Zion Chapel began to foul in a last-ditch effort to get back in the game, and while the Bulldogs did miss 9 of their final 14 free-throw attempts, they managed to hold on and claim the exciting 63-59 win. Bret Nobles poured in 23 points to lead Kinston, while Jeremiah King added 17. Josh Grantham scored 25 points for the Rebels.

Advance to 1A semifinals

'Dogs down Pirates 9-0

by Greg Brunson, Sports writer

The Brantley Bulldogs visited Montgomery's Cramton Bowl Friday night to do battle with the St. Jude Pirates in the third round of the Class 1A football playoffs, and made an early touchdown hold up as they claimed a thrilling 9-0 win to keep their state title hopes alive.

The win improved Brantley's record to 11-2 and moved the Bulldogs into a semifinal match-up against Notsulga, while St. Jude saw its season end with a 7-6 record. Andre Mitchell opened the game with a 30-yard kick-off return to set Brantley up at its own 44-yardline, and two plays later Andy Johnson lofted a 27-yard pass to Zack Burnett to move the Bulldogs to the St. Jude 18-yardline.

Bo Daniels bullied into the end-zone from three yards out five plays later to put Brantley on the scoreboard, and Gregory Daniels added the extra-point, to give Brantley a 7-0 lead with 8:32 left in the opening stanza.

Brantley moved back into Pirate territory on its next possession and appeared ready to add to its lead, but came away empty-handed when a field-goal try was blocked.

A long punt by the Bulldogs' Bo Daniels early in the second quarter was downed at the St. Jude one-yardline by Andre Mitchell, and one play later the Pirates' Timothy Robinson recovered his own fumble in the endzone for a safety. The safety increased Brantley's lead to 9-0 with 9:52 remaining in the half.

Brantley got a break late in the second quarter when Bo Daniels recovered a Pirate fumble at the St. Jude 28-yardline. The Bulldogs moved to a pair of first downs to get deep into Pirate territory; however, the Pirates came up with a key interception by Aaron Cunningham to stop the scoring threat, and at the half Brantley's lead remained at 9-0.

The playoff battle turned into a defensive struggle in the second half as the two 1A teams exchanged interceptions. Terrance Baily claimed the pick-off for the Pirates, while Zack Burnett returned the favor five plays later for the Bulldogs.

Two holding penalties against Brantley killed a potential scoring threat by Brantley late in the third quarter, while St. Jude saw two mild scoring threats turned back by the Bulldog defense.

Brantley had one final scoring opportunity before the end of the game, only to see an 18-yard touchdown pass from Andy Johnson to DeMarion Wiley wiped off by a personal foul penalty, and at the final horn the Bulldogs had the 9-0 win.

Only three defending champions made it to the semifinals - Aliceville (12-1) in Class 3A, Blount (11-0) in Class 5A and Tuscaloosa County (9-4) in Class 6A.

The Bulldogs will travel to Notsulga Friday night.

Brantley's Bo Daniels (2) looks for room to run as teammate Andre Mitchell (8) makes a block downfield. The Bulldogs improved their record to 11-2 with the third round playoff win, and will travel this week to Notsulga for a semifinal battle.

Brantley to meet Notsulga in semi's

The Brantley Bulldogs will be back on the road Friday night when they head to Notsulga to do battle with the undefeated Notsulga Blue Devils, in the semifinal round of the Class 1A high school football playoffs.

Brantley will enter the game with an 11-2 slate, while Notsulga will bring a 13-0 record into the clash.

The Bulldogs advanced to the semifinal round by blanking the St. Jude Pirates 9-0, and will enter Friday night's battle with the only two marks on their record coming from 3A Luverne and 3A St. James. Brantley is paced on offense by the running of Bo Daniels, and the passing of Andy Johnson, while over on defense the Bulldogs have been greedy throughout the season, and have allowed a total of only 13 points in three playoff outings.

Notsulga has been somewhat of a surprise team in the 1A ranks in '98, and will bring a perfect 13-0 record and a lofty state ranking into Friday night's clash.

While the Devils have won 13 straight games this season, the record might be a little deceiving, since eight of their 13 wins came over teams with losing records. The wins this season have been over (2-8) Bearegard 26-0, (2-8) Holtville 39-8, (2-8) Oakman 21-14, (7-3) Loachapoka 7-6, (7-5) Verbera 28-21, (5-6) Bibb Graves 28-0, (0-10) Beulah 34-14, (3-8) Horseshoe Bend 33-8, (7-6) St. Jude 26-24, (5-6) Reeltown 33-0, (3-7) Akron 58-0, (7-5) Verbera 26-3, and (8-5) Erisco City 27-21.

Kickoff for Friday night's battle will be at 7:30 PM.

Count Your Blessings at Thanksgiving

by Gladys Carr

A smile costs nothing, but gives so much. It enriches those who receive it. It takes only a moment, but the memory of it lasts forever. None is so rich or mighty that he can get along without it. And none is so poor but that he cannot be made rich by it.

A smile creates happiness in the church and in the home. It's much better to be friendly and not selfish. People can be happy in the Lord and with each other — Life is what we make it. Each person is unique and special in the eyes of the Lord.

Thank God for little things that often come our way. The things we take for granted, but don't mention when we pray. Thank the Lord for the promise of His guidance. Ask Him to help us trust Him day by day.

Every work we do for Jesus will be blessed.

But He asks from everyone his best. Our talents may be few, but into Him is due our best, our all.

A special prayer at Thanksgiving time. That God will richly bless Your heart, your home, and those you love. With lasting happiness. We have so much to thank God for. Every day.

Computers will be used to compose music at ESJC

Through a new course - MUS 116 - Computer Applications in Music - digital sounds of tapping of keyboard keys at some computer stations, will be heard at Enterprise State Junior College, when computer applications will be used to compose, play and perform music.

The new course introduces the history and use of computer applications in music, and includes an introduction to computer skills, MIDI, and the application of notation and sequencing software programs (i.e. Finale, Performer). Dr. Richard Snyder, Fine Arts chairperson and music instructor, said students interested in this and other courses at ESJC may register for spring quarter now. There will be a limited number of workstations, so interested students are encouraged to register as soon as possible. Pre-registration begins Nov. 30, and spring semester will begin on Jan. 11.

Grandma's Biscuits

by Faye Holdiday

Those of you out there who still have biscuits for breakfast, raise your hand.

Not many, huh? Well, maybe a few of you old-timers — the dyed-in-the-wool, true-blue, pure-bred, early-rising, honest-to-goodness country folks!

And I'm not talking about the little pre-patted round biscuits that come in a can — I mean, REAL, home-made ones.

One of my mother's cousins, who lives in the country, worked for years around 85-90 miles from home, recently retiring from that far-off job. And during those years, his wife got up with him at 4 a.m. and made his breakfast — eggs, bacon and biscuits! When people responded in surprise, she said, "Well, if he can get up at 4 a.m. and drive all that distance to make us a living, I can get up and make his breakfast!"

When my grandma was visiting last summer, I asked if he would like to have some biscuits for breakfast, and he said yes. So, I made some from scratch, cooked them and put them on the table. When he came in, he looked at them with a puzzled expression, and asked what they were! When I realized he didn't know, I asked, "You've never eaten homemade biscuits?" And of course his answer was no. He was expecting store-bought, canned ones! He did try them, but the taste was unfamiliar, so he didn't ask for seconds!

There was a time when biscuits were standard fare at the breakfast table, probably mostly on the farm; when you hit the field at day break and stayed until dark, you needed sustenance — something that would stick to those ribs while the sun bore down on you and sapped your strength.

And we kids ate biscuits too, because we ate with the rest of the family. And we went to school on a full stomach — not like many young students today who disdain any type of breakfast. Along with the biscuits we had gravy, sometimes eggs — if the hens laid — fresh pork chops, bacon and/or sausage, as long as that lasted after hog-killing time — and ALWAYS syrup and butter. Now if asked what you had for breakfast, your reply would have been "syrup-n-butter-n-biscuits" — spoken all together. Whatever else we had, we ended up with that good, home-churned butter vigorously mixed with thick, fresh cane syrup, and hot fluffy biscuits. And along about July when the figs ripened, we would have delicious fig preserves as an alternative sweet treat.

At a time in my brother's young life, all he would eat was syrup-n-butter-n-biscuits. The rest of us nagged Mama about it, saying it wasn't healthy. Now, my Mama was not the type to ask each of her children what they wanted for a meal. She and Grandma cooked it and put it on the table and we ate whatever it was — and that was it. So, my brother ate what he wanted to.

When he had heart surgery some years ago, we teased him, and told him we knew all that syrup-n-butter-n-biscuits weren't good for him! Of course those things are no longer a part of his menu.

Grandma sometimes made biscuits for supper also, if we ran out of vegetables from dinner.

Now my Grandma's biscuits were a work of art! I've always tried but never succeeded in duplicating them. My mother could make good ones, my aunt makes good ones, but my Grandma's were her own personal creation.

She had a large, old blue granite flour pan, which HAD to have something to do with how her biscuits were made! It afforded her plenty of room to work, and she put lots of flour in it. Then, cupping her hand, and mostly with the back of it, she constructed a nest of flour, into which she put just-so-much lard — yes LARD — that was the shortening of the day — that was what we used. She would then begin to mix with her right hand while she poured the good, thick homemade buttermilk with the left hand — pour, mix, squeeze together, gather in some flour, add some buttermilk until she got the proper amount of everything for the number of biscuits she wished to make.

Then she began the kneading. With both hands, she would work ever so gently with the soft, pliable mound of dough, turning, punching in, patting down. But not too much — I could never figure out just how much was enough — but she knew! I think she had an inborn feel for it. To form the biscuits, she would break off a bit of dough — again, just the right amount each time, so that they were all the same size — then place them, sides touching, in her well-greased biscuit baker. And with a final soft pat of the fingers, she slid them into the oven of the old wood stove, heated to the proper temperature, to bake.

I also think the old wood stove had something to do with the way the biscuits turned out. I do not understand how she could get the temperature just right, but she knew how much wood to put in to make it either roaring hot, or just so hot.

The other breakfast was prepared while the biscuits were cooking, and when they were done Grandma would dump the hot, fluffy, tender, ever-so-lightly browned, wonders onto a plate, ready for us to wolf down.

As time went on, we acquired a gas stove, and she continued to make biscuits, but I honestly don't think they were as good as those cooked in the old wood stove.

Grandma's biscuit recipe died with her, and even though I can see her movements in my mind, I can't transfer them to my own biscuits! Recently, however, I made some of my best ones ever, and had some fig preserves to go with them also!

So, I'll have to be satisfied with the way my biscuits turn out, and maybe someday my granddaughter will think mine are wonderful and immitable, and try to do the same.

DHR sponsoring Operation Santa Claus

The Department of Human Resources is again sponsoring "Operation Santa Claus" to bring Christmas to children who might otherwise not experience a joyful one.

Assisting in the purchase, organization and distribution of items to the children of families who qualify are Pairs and Spares Sunday School Class at Elba United Methodist Church; Coffee County Extension Service Volunteers, and other local volunteers.

In addition to collected toys, the goal of the project is to purchase at least one item on each child's Christmas list, and to make this possible, monetary donations are also needed. These contributions will benefit approximately 150 children in the Elba and Jack areas. All donations of toys and money for Operation Santa Claus should be delivered to the Elba Police Dept. by Dec. 5. Individuals, church groups, and businesses also may sponsor families by purchasing and delivering Christmas items personally, in which case these families' names will be removed from the Operation Santa Claus list, to avoid duplication. DHR will provide names and information of families to be sponsored.

Contributions may be mailed to Operation Santa Claus, P.O. Drawer L, Elba, AL 36323, made payable to "Operation Santa Claus." For more information contact DHR at 347-5865, or Pairs and Spares Sunday School Class at 897-2698.

Computers will be used to compose music at ESJC

Through a new course — MUS 116 — Computer Applications in Music — digital sounds of tapping of key-board keys at some computer stations will be heard at Enterprise State Junior College, when computer applications will be used to compose, play and perform music.

The new course introduces the history and use of computer applications in music, and includes an introduction to computer skills, MIDI, and the application of notation and sequencing software programs (i.e. Finale, Performer).

Dr. Richard Snyder, Fine Arts chairperson and music instructor, said students interested in this and other courses at ESJC may register for spring quarter now. There will be a limited number of workstations, so interested students are encouraged to register as soon as possible. Pre-registration begins Nov. 30, and spring semester will begin on Jan. 11.

For more information contact Dr. Snyder, at 393-ESJC, Ext. 319. For information about other courses, call Ext. 234.

Troopers estimate 15 to die in holiday weekend accidents

The Alabama State Troopers anticipate heavy traffic throughout the Thanksgiving holiday period and encourage holiday travelers to drive with care. Troopers also urge motorists to buckle up and not drink and drive.

The Department of Public Safety estimates that 15 people will die in traffic crashes in Alabama during the 102-hour period.

Last year 7 people died as a result of traffic crashes during the Thanksgiving holiday period. Only one of the crash victims was using a safety belt, and at least 1 of the deaths was alcohol related.

All available troopers will be patrolling the state's highways to enforce traffic laws and assist motorists.

Home cooking safety tips

ANGELA HUGHES
County Extension Agent

Do you know what to do if a fire starts in your home? Here are some home cooking fire safety tips.

Don't leave anything cooking unattended. The leading cause of home cooking fires and injuries is unattended cooking. If you leave the kitchen, turn off the heat.

Dress appropriately for cooking. Wear short or tight-fitting sleeves and use caution when working near heat sources. Don't get in the habit of reaching or leaning over the stove.

Turn handles inward so pots and pans won't be pulled or knocked off the stove. Turn the handles toward the center of the stove so they don't hang over the edge within reach of children.

Keep the stovetop clean and clear. Don't let food or grease build up. Also, don't store combustibles such as potholders or wooden utensils on top. Remember, use the stovetop for cooking only, not for storage.

Use caution with electrical appliances. Don't plug too many devices into one outlet, and don't overload extension cords. Have appliances with frayed or cracked cords repaired before using them.

Keep all appliances clean. Spilled food could ignite and cause a fire. Turn off appliances after using.

If a pan fire starts on the stovetop, carefully slide a lid or larger pan over the fire, then turn off the burner. Never pour water on a grease fire.

If a pan fire starts inside the oven, turn off the heat and keep the door closed to suffocate the flames. Call the fire department if the fire doesn't go out immediately.

If the fire starts inside your microwave, keep the door shut and push the stop switch. Keep the door closed until the fire is out. Call the fire department if the fire doesn't go out immediately.

not run. Stop, drop to the ground, and roll over and over to smother the flames. Cover your face with your hands if you can.

If you experience a burn while cooking, run cool water over the skin for 10 to 15 minutes. Don't place butter or other ointment on the burn. This keeps heat in and could further damage the skin. Severe burns should be treated by a physician.
